ESSAY. Write your answer in the space provided or on a separate sheet of paper.

- 188) Describe the composition of the three levels within organizations.
The three levels are:

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: (1) corporate level where the top management directs overall strategy for the entire organization
(2) business unit (business units refers to the subsets of the organization that market a set of products to a clearly defined segment) level where business unit managers set the direction for their products and markets to exploit value-creating opportunities
(3) functional level where groups of specialists actually create value for the organization. (The department is generally used to refer to those functional areas.)

189) There is a General Motors plant in Spring Hill, Tennessee, that is devoted solely to the production of Saturn cars. At which level is this plant operating? Explain your answer.

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: The Saturn plant operates as a business unit of General Motors. It is an organization markets a set of related products (in this case various Saturn models) to a clearly defined group customers (people who want to own Saturn cars).

190) What is the source of cross-functional conflict and how can it be overcome?

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: Cross-functional conflict can arise because of marketing's drive to implement the marketing concept and increase customer value. Other departments may see this as making their jobs more difficult. It is marketing's job to make these departments understand that without satisfied customers who buy the organization's products, there is no company.

191) What is a corporate mission? How can it be used as a motivational tool?

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: A corporate mission is a statement of the organization's scope, often identifying its customers, markets, products, technology, and values. It is often used interchangeably with vision. A well-crafted mission statement can have an inspirational theme that ignites the loyalty of the employees and makes them willing to work harder to see that the company achieves its mission.

192) List potential stakeholders for the college or university that you attend.

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: Students' answers will vary, but each answer should recognize that there are both external and internal stakeholders for each organization. Their lists could include students, deans, instructors, the community in which the institution is located, boards or governments that regulate campus activities, guest speakers, and graduates.

193) Name and briefly describe the seven types of corporate goals set in advance of work?

The seven types of corporate goals set in advance of work are:

Answer: Answers will vary

- Feedback: (1) Profit. Economic theory assumes a firm seeks to maximize long-run profit.
(2) Sales Revenue. A firm may elect to maintain or increase its sales level, even though profit may not be maximized.
(3) Market Share. A firm may choose to maintain or increase its market share-sometimes at the expense of greater profits.
(4) Unit Sales. The effects of inflation may cause a firm to focus on the number of units it sells.
(5) Quality. A firm may emphasize the need to maintain or improve the quality of its products & services, especially if quality has been poor in the past.
(6) Employee welfare. A firm may recognize the critical importance of its employees by having explicit goal stating its commitment to good employment opportunities and working conditions
(7) Social responsibility. A firm may seek to balance conflicting goals of consumers, employee stockholders to promote overall welfare of all these groups.

194) What are the three levels of strategy in organizations? Describe each.

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: See Figure 2-1.

195) One of the most recognized approaches to business portfolio analysis is the Boston Consulting Group growth-share matrix. By dividing each dimension into high and low categories, the matrix contains four cells. Briefly describe the four quadrants of the matrix.

BCG has given specific names and descriptions to the four quadrants in its growth-share matrix. They are as follows:

Answer: Answers will vary

- Feedback: (1) Cash Cows - (lower left quadrant) have a dominant share of a slow growth market; they typically generate large amounts of cash to invest in other SBUs.
(2) Stars - (upper left quadrant) have a high share of high-growth markets; they may not generate enough cash to support their own needs to support future growth.
(3) Question Marks or Problem Children - (upper right quadrant) are SBUs with a low share of high-growth markets; they require large amounts of money just to maintain their market share.
(4) Dogs - (lower right quadrant) have a low share of low-growth markets; although they may generate enough cash to sustain themselves, they hold little promise of becoming winners for the firm.

- 196) The Boston Consulting Group's business portfolio analysis model can be used to guide a firm as it tries to change its relative market share (the factor on the horizontal axis). What conscious decisions can management make on the role each SBU should have in the future and how money should be budgeted for its operations?

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: The firm can invest more in the SBU in order to build its share, it can invest just enough to hold the SBU's share at about its current level, it can harvest the SBU trying to milk its short-term cash flow, even though it may lose share and become a dog in the longer run, or the firm can divest the SBU by phasing it out or actually selling it to gain cash to invest in the remaining SBUs.

- 197) Identify and describe the four market-product strategies an organization uses to identify alternative market opportunities.

The four market-product strategies an organization uses to identify alternative market opportunities are:

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: (1) market penetration, which involves selling more of an existing product to existing market segments

(2) product development, which involves developing a new product for existing market segments

(3) market development, which involves selling an existing product to new market segments

(4) diversification, which involves selling a new product to new market segments

- 198) Identify the three phases of the strategic marketing process and briefly describe what happens during each phase.

The three phases of the strategic marketing process are the Planning Phase, the Implementation Phase, and the Control Phase.

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: (1) Planning Phase includes

(a) situation (SWOT) analysis to identify industry trends, analyze competitors, assess own company, and research customer

(b) market-product focus and goal setting, which involves setting market and product goals, selecting target markets, finding points of difference, and positioning the product

(c) marketing program development, which involves developing the program's marketing mix, developing the budget by estimating revenues, expenses, and profits.

(2) Implementation Phase involves

(a) obtaining resources

(b) designing the marketing organization

(c) developing schedules

(d) executing the marketing program.

(3) Control Phase involves

(a) comparing the results of the marketing program plans to the results achieved to identify deviations

(b) acting to correct negative deviations, and exploit positive ones

199) Identify and describe the four critical factors in a SWOT analysis that help an organization identify the critical strategy-related factors that could have major effects on it.

The four critical factors in a SWOT analysis are:

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: (1) internal strengths, such as the quality, brand name prominence, and technical leadership of its products
(2) internal weaknesses, such as unfocused mission, poor responsiveness to customer needs, and revenues derived from slow-growth businesses
(3) external opportunities, such as growing international markets, and cooperative joint venture
(4) external threats, such as increasing local or foreign competition resulting in declining market share, lower production costs from foreign manufacturers, and adverse governmental regulation

200) What are the marketing mix elements that compose a cohesive marketing program?

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: Figure 2-7 illustrates the principal components under each of the four Ps. Product features: brand name, packaging, service, warranty. Price list price, discounts, allowances, credit terms, payment period. Promotion advertising, personal selling, sales promotion, publicity. Place outlets: channels, coverage, transportation, and stock level. The instructor should probably not expect students to recall every item, but can set a reasonable number of items correctly identified, according to his or her expectations.

201) A campus service organization annually raises money through the sale of t-shirts. What are the major components of the marketing program it should use? Give one example of each.

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: A marketing program should include product, price, promotion, and place strategies. Students' examples will vary. The product strategy would include packaging and design of shirt. Promotion strategy would encompass how the group plans to communicate information about t-shirts to other students. Price strategy would include list price and any quantity discounts. Place strategy would include how the shirts will arrive at the point of sale and selection of the point of sale.

202) What are the four components of the implementation phase of the strategic marketing process?

The four components of the implementation phase of the strategic marketing process are:

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback:
(1) obtaining resources
(2) designing the marketing organization
(3) developing schedules
(4) actually executing the marketing program designed in the planning phase

203) What are the basic differences between marketing strategies and marketing tactics?

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: A marketing strategy is the means by which a marketing goal is to be achieved, usually characterized by

(1) a specified target market

(2) a marketing program to reach it; it implies both the end sought (target market) and the means to achieve it (marketing program).

Marketing tactics, on the other hand, are detailed day-to-day operational decisions essential to the overall success of marketing strategies, such as writing advertising copy or selecting the amount for temporary price reductions. Compared with marketing strategies, marketing tactics generally involve actions that must be taken right away.

204) What is the purpose of the control phase of the strategic marketing process? How is control accomplished?

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: The control phase of the strategic marketing process seeks to keep the marketing program moving in the direction it is set for. Accomplishing this requires the marketing manager to compare the results of the marketing program with goals in the written plans to identify deviations and to correct these deviations - correcting negative deviations and exploiting positive ones.

205) A SWOT analysis can be useful in helping Ben & Jerry's identify new ice cream flavours and social responsibility programs that will contribute to its mission. What elements might their SWOT analysis contain?

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: See Figure 2-6. Student answers will likely vary.

206) Many traditional educational institutions are facing budgetary constraints. Using the four market-product strategies as a framework for your answer, how might these institutions profitably expand in the new economy?

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: See Figure 2-4. Student answers will likely vary.

207) Describe the advantages of integrating social media metrics, such as website traffic sources, click-through-rates, cost-per-click, page views, and page-view-flows, into a marketing dashboard?

Answer: Answers will vary

Feedback: Two major reasons: (1) spot deviations from plans and (2) take corrective actions
